Originally from Danvers, Mass., Mr. Moran was an officer with the Hudson National Bank, in Hudson, Mass., prior to coming to Bethel in 1972. Prior to joining the Inn, he was President of the Bethel Savings Bank. Mr. Moran lives on Broad Street with his wife, Anne, and son, Kyle.

In announcing the appointment, Mr. Rasor stressed the Inn's growth since its acquisition in 1979 and the necessity for strong financial planning to accommodate future growth.

Arthur J. Deibel, who has been General Manager since February, 1980, will report directly to Mr. Rasor as Marketing Vice-President of the company. Mr. Rasor said, "Jim Deibel has been a key factor in more than doubling our sales and his complete focus in sales and marketing will be indispensable to our continued growth."

It was also announced that Gretchen Davidson has been named Assistant Manager responsible for all guest services and special events. "With as many as 60 employees providing services to our guests, it is critical that an experienced professional be responsible for the quality and consistency of our services. Gretchen has demonstrated her abilities in this area and we are delighted she has accepted this important assignment," Mr. Rasor said.

"We now have in place a management team which can provide for our growth in sales and services. This summer and fall have been the strongest in the history of the Inn and our new team looks forward to working with our friends at Mount Abram and Sunday River toward a successful winter season," Mr. Rasor concluded.

YOUTH SOCCER NEWS

In youth soccer action Sunday, Oct. 4, the Rowdies won their first game by defeating the Sockers 4-2. Brant Remington became the second player of the season to complete a "hat trick" (score three goals in one game). He began the scoring less than a minute into the game on a direct kick, scored moments later on a breakaway and then added his third in the third quarter on another breakaway. Frank Heath completed the scoring for the Rowdies in the fourth period converting a Mike Thompson corner kick. The Sockers' two goals were scored by Perry Hart on a penalty kick and Randy Coulombe during a last minute rush at goal.

In the preliminary game the Strikers and Bombers again battled to a tie—this time with neither team able to score a goal. Both teams had many chances to score but good defensive teamwork kept the ball out of the nets.

The next games will be played Sunday, Oct. 11 and the final games will be Oct. 18.

Haven't gotten too many but enough to see that they would grow here, and they sure taste good. On Oct. 1 Albert came in to luncheon and told me that he thought we could get some peas to eat; so being a good little woman over I went and got nearly a half peck of peas so that we could say that we have had peas since the last of June, when I picked a small mess, through to October. And the last peas tasted as good as the first.

Pfc. DEMAREST PARTICIPATES IN NATO EXERCISES

Army Pfc. David H. Demarest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Demarest of West Paris, has participated in "Reforger '81," a series of training exercises conducted by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces in Europe.

Demarest, a truck driver with the 4th Infantry Division at Fort Carson, Colo., joined with members of his unit to provide vital support for the United States and allied forces taking part in this annual exercise.

The 13th of its series, Reforger '81 tested mobility, plans, capabilities and support agreements between military and civilian transportation agencies of both the United States and its NATO partners.

The exercise, stated Department of Defense officials, provided soldiers and airmen the best possible peacetime training for performance of duty under simulated combat conditions.

Nearly 17,000 people along with 27,000 tons of equipment were sent to Europe from the United States in support of Reforger '81.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

To the two great big brave duck hunters that were on the north side of the Gibson residence on the morning of Oct. 1, 1981, in Northwest Bethel:

Why do you have to shoot (4) four tame ducks that can not fly. If you had of looked before you shot, one had all he could do to swim and could not walk on land. Do you know what the different wild ducks look like. If you are going to be hunting more ducks around houses you should get a bird book and check them out. What do you do shoot every thing and throw away the ones you aren't to shoot, some hunter?

Have you ever seen any black and white ducks like the ones you murdered? When they did not fly why did you keep on shooting. If you had just thought a split second you would have seen that you could have gone up to them and picked them up and patted them.

Don't you even know that wild ducks will fly away, to say nothing of getting up to them as close as you did before you became the great white hunter.

If you go hunting this fall and see a dog and it is within 100 feet of a house it will most likely be a tame one. Please don't shoot it for a coydog. If or when you go hunting again take an extra second or two before you shoot. It is no life or death matter, to you, before you have to kill something. Next time it may be your hunting partner, that is if he will go with you again.

Frank A. Gibson, Jr.

P.S. Two years ago in November my neighbor lost a black sheep and he said he thought some hunter got it. This I could not believe but maybe it was you and shot it for a great big black bear.

To the Person or Persons:

I address this letter to the person or persons that shot my heifer in Matt Elliot's field in Andover, Maine. I really don't think you needed the meat that bad, with all the welfare there is in this beautiful country of ours. If you think we raise these animals for nothing just to have jackasses like you go around and shoot them, you are truly mistaken. This heifer would have sold for at least $1,000 by calving time which would have been in March. I would take the time and tell you how much she would have earned in a lifetime, but people with your mentality wouldn't give a d--- anyways.

Second: I think I needed that heifer just as bad as you did, but where she is now she isn't doing any one of us any good. I have three children ages 6, 5, and 2 and a wife, and we try to carve a living out of the dairy business. We have just as many bills to pay if not more than you do. I would bet anything on it. Yes, it is safe to say you did hurt our business with the dairy business in the questionable state that it is in, especially in this state, every heifer means something. It would have been better for the both of us if you had bought a calf and raised it instead of wasting a perfectly good heifer. You would have had your meat and I would have had my heifer.

Let it be known that I am offering a $500 reward for the arrest and conviction of you and that my heifers will be back in Andover, Maine next year but so will I, and you had better hope I am not there when you are because you will wish to H--- you had been buried with that heifer!

FALL SEASON REQUIRES MORE DRIVING CAUTION

Motorists have been urged to use extra caution with the coming of the fall season.

"The arrival of autumn necessitates more driving during the hours of darkness. State law and common sense require the dimming of headlights whenever meeting another vehicle in order to avoid blinding the driver and, very possibly, causing a serious crash," said Col. Allan H. Weeks, chief of the Maine State Police.

Maine law requires motor vehicle operators to have their headlights on one-half hour after sunset and one-half hour before sunrise.

Heavy fog conditions require headlights to be turned on low beam rather than just use of parking lights. According to State law, lights must be turned on any time "due to insufficient light or unfavorable atmospheric condition, caused by fog or otherwise, persons in vehicles on the highway are not clearly discernable for a distance of 500 feet ahead."

"In addition, fog conditions are particularly hazardous during school bus hours and call for exceptional care on the part of motorists, such as reduced driving speed and allowing more space between vehicles because of lowered visibility," Weeks said.

INFORMATION AND REFERRAL SERVICES CUT BY DEPT. OF HUMAN SERVICES

Human Services Commissioner Michael R. Petit has announced that the Information and Referral program of the Maine Department of Human Services is no longer in operation after Oct. 1.

This action was a result of declining federal revenues which resulted in the need to keep highly important child welfare, elderly, and handicapped services at existing service levels. It was first proposed as part of the 1982 Title XX Social Services plan and has been subject to public review and comment since July 1, 1981.

In making this announcement, Commissioner Petit, stated, "Persons who need information about departmental services will still be able to get it by calling the regional offices. Although the Department of Human Services will no longer operate a comprehensive Information and Referral service program, the department still will respond in a timely manner to inquiries about services provided directly by the department. It is our intention to continue to provide the same level of service in other program areas that we have in the past."

Early education programs in the U. S. (such as Head Start) do make a difference: A 1977 study of preschoolers who had Head Start training combined with in-home instruction showed that those children had I. Q. gains of about 10 points.

PEACE-TIME REGISTRATION EXPAINED

The rationale being given for peacetime registration is that it helps the Nation to mobilize its manpower rapidly in a national emergency.

"The Volunteer Force was never intended to stand alone in time of emergency, but has to be augmented first by National Guard and Reserve Forces and then by civilian conscripts," said Maj. Gen. Paul R. Day, director of Selective Service for Maine, during a recent meeting of the Military Order of World Wars held at the Brunswick Naval Air Station.

When the Volunteer Force was started in 1973, registration was continued. Registration was suspended in 1975, said Day, "to save money and as a result of the Vietnam backlash."

Although registration was suspended, Day said the Selective Service requirement remained—to provide the Department of Defense with the civilian manpower it needs in a national emergency in the time frame required.

"The Russian invasion of Afghanistan—the first time since World War II that the Soviets used their own troops to invade a country not already under their domination—accelerated the U. S. plan of action for emergency mobilization," said Day.

As a result, Day said the President called for revitalization of the Selective Service system and peacetime registration, resulting in a pool of names and addresses of men who could be reached quickly in a national emergency.

"We now have a system of continuous registration with each man who reaches 18 required to register within 30 days of his birthday. This is very important. We can understand a short oversight provided the person does register as soon as possible," said Day.

The State Director of Selective Service said, "By registering in peacetime, the Nation saves at least four weeks mobilization time. The result has been a real increase in our ability to respond in a crisis—a definite strengthening of our emergency manpower readiness."

Regarding "fairness," local Selective Service boards are now representative of their communities, both racially and ethnically. Selected members' training insures that each man "will be treated fairly and equitably," said Day.

"All the inequities—such as student, occupational and paternity deferments—have been eliminated. If there were a draft today, who would go would be determined by random selection upon birth date," Day said.

Conscientious objectors would be required to serve the Nation in public service positions. According to Day, "They (conscientious objectors), too, have an obligation to serve their country in an emergency."

BIO-CHEMISTRY GRADUATES OF UMO MAKING MARK

One of the University of Maine at Orono's smallest academic departments—bio-chemistry—is providing graduates who are making their mark in industry, government and teaching. A recent survey of bachelor's and master's degree students who have graduated from the department reveals a number of faculty members now teaching in universities throughout the country, a vice president of a firm which provides intravenous diet for critically ill patients and a number of research scientists with industrial firms. The department was formed in 1958 from a unit composed of biochemistry and microbiology.

"DO YOUR CHILDREN PLAY WITH MATCHES & LIGHTERS"

The U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates that each year approximately 8,700 individuals receive hospital emergency room treatment for injuries, primarily burns, associated with matches; 2,000 for injuries associated with lighters; 4,400 for injuries associated with lighter fluid. Children under 11 and elderly people suffer the most severe burns. These are some of the patterns.

A young woman spilled lighter fluid on her hands and blouse while refilling a lighter. When she lit the lighter, the fluid ignited and caused severe burns on her hands, arms and chest.

While lying in bed, an 86-year-old man attempted to light his pipe and dropped a burning match onto his pajamas which ignited. He died in the resulting fire.

Two-year-old Lynn was playing with matches alone in the living room. She dropped a flaming match on her dress which ignited and caused severe burns over 70% of her body. Lynn died a few days later. These illustrations represent the following accident patterns associated with matches and lighters.

1) Children playing with matches and cigarette lighters—This is most common with children under 11 years of age.

2) Product failures—Sparks, fragmentation and flaring will be caused by non-uniform application of ignition compounds to the match tips. Some lighters have unexpectedly high flame heights or spit drops of flaming fuels.

3) Use of matches and lighters by the elderly—The elderly may not be physically able to light a match or to extinguish a fire, particularly a clothing fire, if one starts.

4) Spilling lighter fluid—Most people aren't aware of the hazards of the highly flammable vapors of lighter fluid. Fluid which overflows onto your hand or clothing or which leaks through cracks in a defective lighter can be ignited by a spark or flame from the lighter. Children and the elderly are frequently involved in accidents associated with lighters.

Other hazards include old-fashioned "friction matches" which can ignite by being rubbed against any rough surface and ignition of the entire matchbook because of accessibility of match heads or difficulty in closing the matchbook. Smoking is the most common activity in matchbook and lighter accidents involving people over 16 years of age. Difficult and awkward activities, such as lighting an oven, are involved in these accidents.

The U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission offers the following suggestions for the purchase, safe use, and storage of matches and lighters.

1) PURCHASE...Look for lighters which are appropriate to your needs, self extinguishing and easy to fill. Lighters with large flame or containers attractive to children are potentially more dangerous than plain, small pocket lighters. Look for matches with plain covers which will be less attractive to children.

2) USE... Teach children the dangers of playing with fire. Emphasize the proper, safe way to light matches; hold at arm's length and strike away from yourself. Be aware that a child often seeks an isolated area to experiment with matches of lighters and in the event of a fire, the child won't be able to get help.

CANDIDATES PETITIONS AVAILABLE FOR CONSERVATION SUPERVISORS

Nominating petitions are ready for interested persons wishing to run for the office of supervisor at the Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District. Anyone who is a cooperator in the District may be a candidate in the November election providing he submits a nominating petition with at least 10 signatures of other District Cooperators on that petition.

The person winning the election will serve a three year term as supervisor of the Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District. District supervisors serve without salary, but do receive compensation for mileage to attend meetings.

The Soil and Water Conservation District, organized under Maine State Law, is a legal subdivision of the state, set up to help landowners solve their problems of soil and water conservation. With today's great concern over a good quality environment it is hoped many interested citizens would be willing to donate time as a district supervisor.

Anyone wishing more information about the post and duties may stop in at the Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District Office at 1 Main Street, South Paris. Note: Petitions must be returned to the District Office by Oct. 30, 1981.

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST

Rushing to the bank, the door is closed in front of us and the words come: "Sorry, you're too late." School exam time, you hand in your paper and hear: "Sorry, you're too late."—you hurry to catch the last bus—and again, "too late."

So often it happens in life—from the young to the old—experiences we can relate to—"I wish I could do it over again"—"just another chance."

Were we to open our Bible to Matthew chapter four, verse 17, we would read "From that time on Jesus began to preach, 'Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is near.'" Here we find a direct comparison to the phrase—"Sorry, it's too late". Throughout history—to even this day and for whatever time is allowed to us these words of "too late" will be grievous for the ever so many people that refuse to heed the words of Christ:—"Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is near."

Yes, to them the gates of heaven will be forever closed. The lessons we learn when the bank's doors are shut, the bus leaving the station without us should bring to mind that Christ is calling—that the God of all creation—Heaven and earth loves us and wants us to join with him. He waits ever so patiently for us to say—Lord, help me—I am a sinner and need you, forgive me (repent) for the wrongs I have done.

Matthew 5—there Jesus Christ taught the people—like you and me (the Beatitudes) "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven"—through verse 10—"Blessed are the meek, mourners, those that hunger for righteousness, merciful, pure in heart, peacemakers," etc.—"For theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

It tells us that everyone must answer to God. Those who have truly repented and accepted Christ as their Lord—shall go to heaven where the glories of God will be revealed. But to those that refuse to heed the Word of Christ and act upon them—woe, for as God said in Hosea 13:14 "I will have no compassion," Luke 13:3 "I tell you, no! But unless you repent, you too shall perish!"

What further shall we say? But, that we may read Matthew—chapters 4, 5 and 6—pray and talk "with" God.

"Ask and it will be given to you, seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you. For everyone who asks receives; he who seeks finds; and to him who knocks, the door will be opened." Matt. 7:7.

RURAL STATE TROOPERS

WORKING 12-HOUR SHIFTS

The Maine State Police, the only state police force in the nation requiring officers to be on call 24 hours a day, has just started an experimental program putting rural Troopers on shifts.

"As of Oct. 1, we're experimenting with 12-hour shifts because we can't expect our officers to assume the load of vacant patrols on 24-hour call continually without relief," said Col. Allan H. Weeks, chief of the Maine State Police.

Weeks said Troopers are "stretched quite thin" throughout the State. He said, "Shift experiments are being evaluated to determine how existing personnel may be used most effectively and how relief can be provided for those officers on call."

The state police chief said his agency will continue to provide the professional service citizens have come to expect; however, citizens will have to have patience.

Citizens should know that when they request a Trooper one will be sent, although the response time may be longer since an officer may be coming from a different area. This is why we recently supplied through the help of the news media the toll-free telephone numbers to be used when a Trooper is needed.

Shift work, said Weeks, "is to allow time off so the officer will not burn out from stress and continual work, as well as provide a definite time period for them to be with their families."

Weeks said vacant positions on the force are the result of a lack of funds to replace those who retired or resigned plus a validation study that closed the hiring register. The last hired state police officer was hired December, 1978. Since May 1979 there has been a reduction of 33 Troopers.

Although the state police plan to have a group of newly trained officers on the road around May of 1982, the state police have only about 290 officers at this time to serve the people of Maine.

The last group of state police officers went on the road during May 1979, giving the force 323 Troopers from their authorized 327.

During January 1980, the Legislature eliminated 10 positions and took $400,000 from the state police budget. No lay offs were necessary due to vacant positions.

In January 1981, the Legislature eliminated 11 positions and held the state police budget to current level spending with no lay offs necessary as vacant positions existed. The Legislature did fund nine positions for replacements and allocated six new positions for Fuel Tax Enforcement. Weeks said the state police are now authorized 303 officers.

Weeks said as a result of inflation and current level spending "there has been a serious shortfall due to increased cost of vehicles and fleet operations." He also said problems with the Highway Fund has resulted in "tight budgeting" for the state police due to the 75% of the state police budget that the Fund provides.

According to Weeks, "We hope the people of Maine through the Legislature will authorize the people we need for us to provide the professional service required to protect the property and preserve the life of those people within our State."

Weeks said a decision whether or not to keep Troopers on shift work will be made during the middle of 1982 upon completing the evaluation of the experimental shift program for rural patrol officers.

NOTES FROM THE BETHEL LIONS DEN

The Bethel Lions Club held its monthly dinner meeting Tuesday, Oct. 6. The guest speaker was the District 41-L Governor William (Bill) Murphy of Eliot, Maine. Also attending was District Secretary Sam Bulley. The District Governor's talk was based upon the Lions International President's Karou, "Kai" Murakami of Japan, theme, "People at Peace". Several awards were also given to members of the Bethel Lions Club for 100% attendance, and bringing in new members to the Club, by the District Governor.

SAFEGUARDING MAINE'S FARMLANDS IS FOCUS OF CONFERENCE

A new race for space is challenging the nation, says supervisor Roger Smedberg of the Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District.

"Today's race for space is not between spaceships in the skies above us, it's between developers and farmers on the land where we live," Smedberg says.

Growth in the U. S. may require building 50,000 housing units a week from now until the year 2000. Such growth swallows additional land for roads, shopping center, schools and factories. It also permanently claims too much of the best or so-called "prime farmland" that we depend upon to feed and clothe us. These two opposing trends constitute a major collision course, Smedberg says.

Unavoidably, these conflicting demands, predicts Smedberg, will bring higher food costs, increased land valuations and higher taxes to correct environmental damage.

In Maine, only about 1 million of the 18.5 million acres of total land area are considered to be prime soils, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture statistics. "At some future date we will need all of this prime land to feed people," Smedberg says.

Strategies for safeguarding this vital agricultural land to the future of Maine's agriculture will be the focus of the Maine Farmland Conference to be held on Thursday, Oct. 22 at the Samoset Resort Inn in Rockport, Smedberg says.

The conference is being coordinated by the Time and Tide Resource Conservation and Development Area, headquartered in Waldoboro. In cooperation with the Maine Farm Bureau, the Maine State Grange and several other conservation organizations.

Several area businesses and organizations are working to help put the conference together.

They include Harold Shaw Jr.; A. W. Walker & Son; Paris Farmers Union; and Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District, all located in South Paris.

The conference is designed to learn the farmer's perspective on the importance of farmland to food production and the need to conserve farmland.

Featured speakers include Robert Gray, director of policy development for the American Farmland Trust in Washington, D. C.; Frederick Hutchinson, Vice President of the University of Maine at Orono; and C. R. De Rochemont, a Rockland realtor.

The conference will outline for farmers and other participants the problems of the nation's shrinking farmland base, methods to conserve it and the pros and cons of each method. It will also feature a discussion on the economics of farming, led by Maine Commissioner of Agriculture Stewart Smith.

More information on the day's activities, which run from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., can be obtained by contacting either the local soil and water conservation district or the Time and Tide Resource Conservation and Development Area, Waldoboro, Maine, 04572, telephone 832-5343.

M. S. A. D. #44

Superintendent's Newsletter

Dr. Wayne F. Gersen

When the Board of Directors of M.S.A.D. #44 met Monday, Oct. 5, at the Woodstock Elementary School in Bryant Pond, the primary focus of the meeting was the presentation of a technical assistance and feasibility study report on the elementary schools in the district. Tony Lisa, an engineer from Dufresne-Henry Inc., and Bob Weatherill, an architect from Wadsworth, Boston, Dimick, Mercer, and Weatherill, prepared the report for the Directors, which provided cost estimates on the various alternatives being considered by the school district with regard to the improvement of the elementary schools in the District. The alternatives presented in the feasibility study were:

1. The renovation of each of the four elementary schools to improve heating efficiency and space utilization, with no new buildings or building additions included.

2. The retrofitting of each of the four elementary schools with a coal fired burner.

3. New construction to replace the Woodstock Elementary School in Bryant Pond, and an addition at Crescent Park School to replace the Ethel Bisbee School. This alternative would also include renovations at the Andover Elementary School and the Crescent Park School in Bethel.

Mr. Lisa and Mr. Weatherill gave a summary report on their study which included blueprints of the existing facilities, blueprints of the proposed renovations, and blueprints of the proposed construction projects.

At their meeting Tuesday night, Oct. 6, the Buildings and Grounds Committee of the Board of Directors reviewed the feasibility study in detail, and discussed the development of a recommendation for the Board of Directors with regard to the improvement of the elementary school facilities in M.S.A.D. #44. In the coming week, I plan to prepare a cost analysis of each of the options the Board is exploring, and plan to share this information at public meetings in the district.

These public meetings will be conducted within the next two weeks at each elementary school as follows: Woodstock Elementary School, Wednesday, Oct. 14, 7 p.m.; Crescent Park School, Thursday, Oct. 15, 7 p.m.; Ethel Bisbee School, Tuesday, Oct. 20, 7 p.m.; Andover Elementary School, Thursday, Oct. 22, 6:30 p.m.

For snack times they made Holiday Yums, stuffed celery, corn bread and Spanish eggs.

ST. DOMS EDGES TELSTAR 2-1

The Telstar varsity soccer team came out on the short end of a see-saw battle waged on home turf, Friday, Oct. 2. St. Doms began the scoring at 15:00 of the first period when Steve Remy played a perfect cross to Gary St. Pierre who headed it into the Telstar net.

Playing without winger Chris Mills, who was injured in a previous game, the Rebels were unable to sustain a good offensive attack. Freshmen wings Luis Moran and Mike Kelly combined with Rocky Myers to threaten the St. Doms goal several times to no avail.

The game was played from end to end through the second and third quarters without any score. Then at 5:30 of the fourth quarter Glenn Poulin made it 2-0 with an unassisted goal through a crowd.

The lone Telstar goal came 12 minutes later when Rocky Myers drilled a Luis Moran pass into the Saints' net. A final rush at goal failed and the score ended 2-

White Mountain National Forest

The fall colors reached their peak in the Evans Notch area last week end. Campers, hikers, and sightseers were out in large numbers enjoying the fall scenery. Winds and rain have already started to remove the foliage, reminding us winter is not far off.

Several District employees were recently recognized for outstanding performance. Don Feeney received an award for public service in the Backcountry. Kim Blodgett was recognized for leadership in the Youth Conservation Corps program. Arthur "Joe" Taylor received an award for his work in constructing the Bog Brook Camp.

Bob Fant has volunteered to serve as Volunteer Program Coordinator for the Evans Notch Ranger District. In 1972 Congress passed special legislation to enable interested citizens to assist in the important conservation work of the Forest Service. President Reagan, in his Thursday evening address to the Nation several weeks ago, highlighted the opportunity for volunteers to serve their community and country. Bob Fant will be contacting groups and organizations for volunteers to help with a variety of public service projects. Bob will be coordinating individual and group capabilities and interest with the projects. For more information contact Bob at 824-2134 on any Monday.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY ANNUAL "WHAT'S IT" MEETING

"What's It?" ranging from a Civil War percussion cap pouch to a wagon wheel plane were the featured topics at the monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society held Thursday evening in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. These were brought in to the meeting by various members and guests. Also part of this program were slides of old photographs taken during the past year of Bethel area scenes from views of Main Street in the 1870's to school photographs of students at the old brick grammar school. In addition slides of Society activities during the past year were also featured.

During the business portion of the meeting President Donald Bennett announced that more than half of the reprints of the Bethel History are now gone and anyone wishing to obtain one at the special pre-publication price should place their order with full payment to the Society before Nov. 1. He also announced that the gift of the month is a set of three volumes which provide a catalog of genealogical books available on loan from the New England Historic Genealogical Society which may be obtained for members use in the Eva Bean Research Room, the Society's archives. These are the gift of Alden and Mabel Kennett. President Bennett also brought to the attention of those attending that the Society's long awaited "Molly Ockett" booklet is now available. Written by Catherine Newell it also features sketches by Sue Wight. Also available is stationery with a sketch of the summer house by Helen Morton. The president called attention to the fact that Ruth Crosby's two books "I Was A Summer Boarder" and "From An Old Leather Trunk" are now available at a special sale price in the Museum store.

The next meeting was announced by President Bennett as a presentation on the history of Newry by Paula Wight. Anyone with artifacts or photographs relating to Newry is encouraged to notify the Society and perhaps bring them to the meeting Nov. 5.

TELSTAR BOOTERS TIE

On Wednesday, Sept. 30, the Telstar varsity soccer team played tough defensive soccer through four regular quarters of play and two overtime periods to save a scoreless tie with a revenge-seeking Mt. Abram team. Two weeks earlier, the Rebels became only the second team in 18 games to beat the Mt. Abram Roadrunners. Freshman goalkeeper Brandon Salway made several spectacular saves to keep the Rebels in the game. The tough Telstar defense allowed the opposition very little time to play and forced them to make mistakes and take rushed shots.

The Rebels are currently ranked sixth in Western Maine Class B and will be fighting to earn a play-off berth somewhere in the top eight.

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

Yesterday I left the hurry-hurry of our main road to wander through the woods and over the hills so I could dawdle and enjoy the countryside, the valley, and the ponds. I could feel autumn under foot, where things change on their own terms.

Often I tell myself, when I start out, that I need the hike for the exercise or a breath of fresh air. Good excuses but not really the reason. Today it was the color, the trees, the sky and the hills. The wind, too, was so strong at times that I found myself pushing against it. It was forever restless. As I sat on a rock, I could hear its rise and fall. There was a rush of waves one after another until it reached a certain battering blow then a pause to gather force again.

Everywhere, I walked in a land of beauty. Much of the brilliance was due to the maples. Without these the autumn spectacle would be less spectacular. Up all the hill sides, the birches flashed and flustered yellow banners against the green, while the brown and maroons of oaks stood by. Every thing was COLOR.

As I climbed higher, the vast bowl of the sky seemed to grow wider and its blue could be none other than October.

Each season has its cup full to the brim and running over with pleasure. Fall's color is its glory. "Could this be real—this fairland of red and gold? And there I'd stand Enraptured—far as eye could see—

At Mother Nature's artistry," Helen D. Hering

Near where I turned to go to the brook I could hear its murmur through the solemn woods. At its side it rushed on unheeding with a few flowers bending meekly among the ferns.

I turned back to the fields looking

PLEASANT VALLEY BIBLE CHURCH

Playing the prelude to the service at the Pleasant Valley Bible Church on Sunday, was Cleveland Lovejoy at the organ.

An important segment of each service is the prayer requests and words of praise for their answers. Pastor Bert Griffith's message was "The Yielded Life" from Roman's 6:10-23.

Playing for the choir to sing "Too Precious" was Dorothy West on the organ and Linda Stowell, the piano.

Assisting with the Communion were Elders Stanley Jones and Dave Covey.

The climb up Mt. Caribou was postponed due to the strong winds. A business meeting followed the service and the members found a way to finance the purchase of new hymnals.

Stanley Jones resumes his Bible Class on Mondays at Mabel Walker's, 7 p. m.

WEST PARIS CLASS TAGS OVER 100 BUTTERFLIES

Mrs. Clements' fifth grade class at the West Paris School is very busy this fall, collecting caterpillars and monarch butterflies, raising them in the class room, and tagging the butterflies as they go on their journey south for the winter.

The students record the number on each butterfly and vital information such as sex and whether the butterfly was raised with the loving care of the students or caught in the wild. Over 100 butterflies are expected to be tagged this year in Mrs. Clements' classroom.

The collected data is sent to the University of Toronto to help the insect migration research done there. When a monarch butterfly is found with a tag, the number and location is sent to Toronto. From the data already collected, it can be determined how far the butterfly from West Paris went for the winter months.

So if you happen to find a monarch butterfly (orange and black) with a small, white tag on its wing, write down the number. It may be from Mrs. Clements' class . . . or who knows what distant land that butterfly came from.

Sunday River

— Jeannine Fleet, Corres. —
Sent in by Eva Yates:

A nice cold October day, Sunday the 4th, and how better to start the Go-Shoes going than a trip to Fryeburg Fair. Do you know of any better way or a better place to meet your next door neighbor or Uncle Henry or Aunt Susie that you have not seen since the last time? Well thanks to Joe and Peggy, they bother with this old cripple and do all they can to make my days pleasant, and then there is Laura and Viva and others so I find life really worth living. I know at times I am a bigger nuisance than an old pet tomcat but I guess they don't. Anyway in spite of a cold wind away we went and I did have a good time. I saw a lot of the horse show and watched the dogs herd the sheep—both were a pleasure—and the chicken sandwiches, pumpkin pie, cookies, hot French fries and coffee was so tasty. A grand and glorious day.

Monday, Sept. 28: Laura Hutchins and the old Go Shoes went to Lewiston with Peggy Blake. We did some shopping and had supper.

Who ever got the idea I don't like strawberry pie? I do like all pies—I'm a regular pie fiend. But you know there are times when one flavor hits you in the face—better than others and too there are times when it's best to disagree with the cook if her husband is on your side but strawberry pie is O.K. if you can't have chocolate or custard. Tomorrow is another Monday and if the Go Shoes aren't too cold by morning they probably will go to Norway. That all? No indeed that's only the start for this week.

Jack Frost snuck in one night this past week and looked things over but meddled only a wee bit. Friday night, Joe, Peggy and Go Shoes started out about 5 p. m., went to Bryant Pond gathered up friend Esther, then Verna and we all went to Past Master's Night at Oxford Grange where Joe held an office, rained coming home but we had a good time.

Tuesday night, Oct. 6, Bear River will entertain Oxford Pomona. Oct. 10 Bear River will hold its regular meeting at their hall preceded by a pot luck supper. All Grangers are welcome but you had best bring your little pot of luck or you might be out of luck altogether. Groceries go up a high you know every week.

I'll let you know about the Go-Shoes next week if all holds together but this is enough for tonight. I know my neighbors are all busy but what I don't know.

The gardens are pretty well gathered and it feels like Jack Frost could sneak in again. Oh well it will be colder before next April.

Thanks to all my friends and relatives who sent the lovely birthday cards etc. but really I don't feel any older. Keep smiling, be happy and if you have not already done so you had best get your red flannels out of the moth balls or they will smell when you put them on. Bye, bye.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY ANNUAL "WHAT'S IT" MEETING

"What's it's" ranging from a Civil War percussion cap pouch to a wagon wheel plane were the featured topics at the monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society held Thursday evening in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. These were brought in to the meeting by various members and guests. Also part of this program were slides of old photographs taken during the past year of Bethel area scenes from views of Main Street in the 1870's to school photographs of students at the old brick grammar school. In addition slides of Society activities during the past year were also featured.

During the business portion of the meeting President Donald Bennett announced that more than half of the reprints of the Bethel History are now gone and anyone wishing to obtain one at the special pre-publication price should place their order with full payment to the Society before Nov. 1. He also announced that the gift of the month is a set of three volumes which provide a catalog of genealogical books available on loan from the New England Historic Genealogical Society which may be obtained for members use in the Eva Bean Research Room, the Society's archives. These are the gift of Alden and Mabel Kennett. President Bennett also brought to the attention of those attending that the Society's long awaited "Molly Ockett" booklet is now available. Written by Catherine Newell it also features sketches by Sue Wight. Also available is stationery with a sketch of the summer house by Helen Morton. The president called attention to the fact that Ruth Crosby's two books "I Was A Summer Boarder" and "From An Old Leather Trunk" are now available at a special sale price in the Museum store.

The next meeting was announced by President Bennett as a presentation on the history of Newry by Paula Wight. Anyone with artifacts or photographs relating to Newry is encouraged to notify the Society and perhaps bring them to the meeting Nov. 5.

TELSTAR BOOTERS TIE

On Wednesday, Sept. 30, the Telstar varsity soccer team played tough defensive soccer through four regular quarters of play and two overtime periods to save a scoreless tie with a revenge-seeking Mt. Abram team. Two weeks earlier, the Rebels became only the second team in 18 games to beat the Mt. Abram Roadrunners. Freshman goalkeeper Brandon Salway made several spectacular saves to keep the Rebels in the game. The tough Telstar defense allowed the opposition very little time to play and forced them to make mistakes and take rushed shots.

The Rebels are currently ranked sixth in Western Maine Class B and will be fighting to earn a play-off berth somewhere in the top eight.

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.

Yesterday I left the hurry-hurry of our main road to wander through the woods and over the hills so I could dawdle and enjoy the countryside, the valley, and the ponds. I could feel autumn under foot, where things change on their own terms.

Often I tell myself, when I start out, that I need the hike for the exercise or a breath of fresh air. Good excuses but not really the reasons. Today it was the color, the trees, the sky and the hills. The wind, too, was so strong at times that I found myself pushing against it. It was forever restless. As I sat on a rock, I could hear its rise and fall. There was a rush of waves one after another until it reached a certain battering blow then a pause to gather force again.

Everywhere, I walked in a land of beauty. Much of the brilliance was due to the maples. Without these the autumn spectacle would be less spectacular. Up all the hill sides, the birches flashed and fluttered yellow banners against the green, while the brown and maroons of oaks stood by. Every thing was COLOR.

As I climbed higher, the vast bowl of the sky seemed to grow wider and its blue could be none other than October.

Each season has its cup full to the brim and sunning over with pleasure. Fall's color is its glory. "Could this be real—this fairland of red and gold? And there I'd stand Enamoured—far as eye could see—

At Mother Nature's artistry." Helen D. Hering
Near where I turned to go to the brook I could hear its murmur through the solemn woods. At its side it rushed on unheeding with a few flowers bending meekly among the ferns.

I turned back to the fields looking again at the distant hills flaming in their attire.

The wind still whistled and near the edge of the field the leaves came down like confetti being hurled into the air. Before I climbed over the wall I watched the clouds move like powder puffs in the sky, bidding me goodbye.

From here on I was in the woods until I reached the Bulldozer Road. I took this way because I didn't like going under fences or unfastening gates.

So I left the shimmer of the maple and the glow of the birch where autumn's sun made my autumn day a special moment in time. But another special moment followed early the next morning. A faint clamor echoed from the sky. Wild geese, foot-loose, settled on the pond out front; 21 in number. How majestic and beautiful they were! We admired them for only a short time. All this was something special; so proud, so talkative they were. But the sound of the hunters' first morning out sent them all scattering. Their beauty vanished and only a faint echo remained.

"Wild geese are notes of music Pencil across the sky. The poignant orchestration Of summer's farewell cry."

PLEASANT VALLEY
BIBLE CHURCH

Playing the prelude to the service at the Pleasant Valley Bible Church on Sunday, was Cleveland
Lovejoy at the organ.

An important segment of each service is the prayer requests and words of praise for their answers.
Pastor Bert Griffith's message was "The Yielded Life" from Roman's 6:10-23.

Playing for the choir to sing
"Too Precious" was Dorothy West on the organ and Linda Stowell, the piano.

Assisting with the Communion were Elders Stanley Jones and Dave Covey.

The climb up Mt. Caribou was postponed due to the strong winds.
A business meeting followed the service and the members found a way to finance the purchase of new hymnals.

Stanley Jones resumes his Bible Class on Mondays at Mabel Walker's, 7 p. m.

Those wishing to attend the roller skating party Oct. 11 in Lancaster, N. H., can meet at Mar-ureen Swain's at 1 p. m. All local young folks are invited. More details, cost, etc., can be learned by calling Maureen Swain.

WEST PARIS CLASS TAGS
OVER 100 BUTTERFLIES

Mrs. Clements' fifth grade class at the West Paris School is very busy this fall collecting caterpil-lars and monarch butterflies, raising them in the class room, and tagging the butterflies as they go on their journey south for the winter. The students record the number on each butterfly and vital information such as sex and whether the butterfly was raised with the loving care of the students or caught in the wild. Over 100 butterflies are expected to be tagged this year in Mrs. Clements' classroom.

The collected data is sent to the University of Toronto to help the insect migration research done there. When a monarch butterfly is found with a tag, the number and location is sent to Toronto.

From the data already collected, it can be determined how far the butterfly from West Paris went for the winter months.

So if you happen to find a monarch butterfly (orange and black) with a small, white tag on its wing, write down the number. It may be from Mrs. Clements' class or who knows what distant land that butterfly came from.

Sunday River

— Jeannine Fleet, Corres. —

Sent in by Eva Yates:

A nice cold October day, Sunday
the 4th, and how better to start the Go-Shoes going than a trip to Fryeburg Fair. Do you know of any better way or a better place to meet your next door neighbor or Uncle Henry or Aunt Susie that you have not seen since the last time? Well thanks to Joe and Peggy, they bother with this old cripple and do all they can to make my days pleasant, and then there is Laura and Viva and others so I find life really worth living. I know at times I am a bigger nuisance than an old pet tomcat but I guess they don't.
Anyway in spite of a cold wind away we went and I did have a good time. I saw a lot of the horse show and watched the dogs herd the sheep—both were a pleasure—and the chicken sandwiches, pumpkin pie, cookies, hot French fries and coffee was so tasty. A grand and glorious day.

Monday, Sept. 28: Laura Hutchins and the old Go Shoes went to Lewiston with Peggy Blake. We did some shopping and had supper.

Who ever got the idea I don't like strawberry pie? I do like all pies—I'm a regular pie fiend.
But you know there are times when one flavor hits you in the face better than others and too there are times when it's best to disagree with the cook if her husband is on your side but strawberry pie is O.K. if you can't have chocolate or custard. Tomorrow

The next meeting of the Woodstock Historical Society will be a Quiz Night. The meeting will be on Saturday at 7:00 in the Woodstock Elementary School. Dorothea Hooper of the program committee has prepared a short list of questions on Woodstock to test the members' knowledge of town history. The members will also be asked to vote on the proposed amendment to the Constitution. In addition, the society plans to start a small collection of China for the museum. If anyone has a small dessert or butter plate they would be willing to donate, please contact Eva Twitchell or Larry Billings. The museum would like to start a collection of such dishes that could be used for display and also for serving refreshments at society meetings.

MRS. LAURA B. BENNETT

Mrs. Laura B. Bennett of Bethel died Thursday morning, Oct. 1, 1981, at the Andrews Nursing Home, South Paris, where she had been cared for since March.

She was born at Gorham, N. H., Dec. 29, 1904, the daughter of Camille Joseph and Florida Provencher Baker. She was married to Chris Bennett, Aug. 22, 1924. Mr. Bennett died Jan. 18, 1948. Mrs. Bennett was a member of the Bethel Senior Citizens and Our Lady of the Snows Church, Bethel.

Survivors include her mother of South Paris; seven sisters, Mrs. Marie Harrold, Pocono, Pa., Mrs. Dora Gardner, Watford, and Mrs. Eva Buckman and Mrs. Alice McAllister, Mrs. Dorothy Onofrio, Mrs. Yvonne Nowlin and Mrs. Margaret Buck, all of Bethel; five brothers, Alphonse Baker, North Newfield, Maine, Wilfred Baker, Berlin, N. H., Levi Baker, Baldwin Park, Calif., Joseph and Romeo Baker, both of Bethel.

A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated at Our Lady of the Snows Church, Saturday afternoon. Interment was at the Head of the Tide Cemetery in Newry.

BLANCHE E. GARRISON

Blanche E. Garrison, 77, widow of Fred A. Garrison, formerly of Portland and 452 Bridgton Road, Westbrook, died Thursday, Oct. 1, 1981, in a Gardiner nursing home after a long illness.

She was born in Bethel, the daughter of Edward and Maude Seavey Currier. She attended schools there and went to Portland as a young woman, making her home in Greater Portland most of her lifetime.

Mrs. Garrison was employed with Burroughs Corp., the South Portland shipyard during the war, and later for many years with Schlottbeck and Foss Co.

She was a communicant of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Her husband died in 1953.

Mrs. Garrison is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Harold (Louise) Chapman of Lancaster, Pa., Mrs. Dorothy Sullivan of Portland, Mrs. Lloyd (Avis) Smith of Westbrook, and Mrs. Norma MacLeod of New Bedford, Mass.; two brothers, John and Ivory Currier, both of Bethel; a sister, Mrs. Mona Hawthorne of Portland; 20 grandchildren, 25 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Friday in Portland, the Rev. Harold A. MacElwain officiating with interment in Forest Hill Cemetery, Portland.

More than 90% of today's adult population attended public schools. What this means is that U. S. World prominence in fields such as space technology, science, medicine, electronics, worldwide communications and even sports, is due in large measure to the work and achievements of public school graduates.

DIED
In Gardiner, Oct. 1, Blanche E. Garrison, native of Bethel, aged 77 years.

In South Paris, Mrs. Laura B. Bennett of Bethel, aged 76 years.

PRE-SCHOOLERS RETAIN MORE OF WHAT THEY SEE THAN WHAT THEY HEAR: UMO STUDY

A University of Maine at Orono researcher has found that preschool children retain much more of what they see than what they hear. Dr. Donald Hayes, associate professor of psychology, has been conducting research under the auspices of the Spencer Foundation to study children's retention of televised events. A long-term objective of Hayes' research is to ascertain how televised information can be most effectively conveyed to young children. "If children tend to ignore large portions of what they hear, educators might want to examine the ways in which audio-visual materials are used in the teaching process," Hayes says.
